

Andrew DOUGLAS

Fluidity and the Human Form

"Contemplation", mixed media, 48" x 48"

Andrew Douglas is one of Las Vegas' leading emerging artists. His paintings often feature human figures caught up in a maelstrom of passion and energy. Largely self-taught, his work is expressive and dramatic and often autobiographical.

Andrew's most recent work features acrylic, iridescent, and metallic paints applied in a series of layers. The results are dynamic, textural, and intricate. A single painting may take several months to complete.

Andrew's current show, "Fluidity and the Human Form", features his ongoing exploration of human emotions and relationships. His paintings are honest and moving, epic and universal.

Andrew Douglas has been drawing and painting since childhood. He is now 26 years old and currently resides in Summerlin, Nevada.
