

LISA LALA: Biography

Lisa Lala has been immersed in art since birth. Her parents are sculptor Wil Lala, and watercolor painter Susan Lala. Growing up in Manhattan, Kansas, Lala was raised with a global perspective as her father often took his family to impoverished countries as medical volunteers.

Lala received her BFA from the University of Kansas. Recently she has studied with master abstract painter Philomene Bennett. She has also painted with Wolf Kahn, Lisa Grossman, Jane Booth, Sue Adams, Bev Gegan, and Tjasa Demsar. Lala has exhibited her award-winning work in several venues in the Kansas City area, where she resides.

Lisa Lala is represented by the Blue Gallery in Kansas City, Strecker-Nelson Gallery in Manhattan, Kansas, Marion Meyer Gallery in LA/Laguna Beach, California, Chicago Art Source Gallery in Chicago, Illinois, and Schiesser Gallery in Steamboat Springs, Colorado. Her work has also been shown in Anthem Gallery in New York City, and Belizian Arts Gallery in Belize Central America. You may also contact the artist to stop by the studio to see more current and archived work.